THE ROAD SHOW

The Maccello Foundation and The Giavinci Trust have put together all the teachings, each approximately one-hour duration, to present them on a projector with the text and sound complete in order to enable those without access to our web site to come to learn and discover within themselves these truths. We would be happy to arrange a show at your venue, within the United Kingdom, for just our costs to get to you and back. Please contact us by email for more information along with where and when you would like to stage our road show.

Thank you.
